ISSUES A MANIFESTO.

Paris, Jan. 17.—The National Assembly, sitting at Versailles, this afternoon, on the second ballot, elected M. Francois Felix Faure, member of the Chamber of Deputies for Seine-Inférieure, and Minister of Marine in the Cabinet of M. Dupuy, President of the French Republic, to succeed M. Casimir-Perier, whose resignation was read in Parliament yesterday.

The vote was 430 for M. Faure and 361 for M.

Henri Brisson, the candidate of the Radicals and Socialists.

The announcement of the result was made amid a tremendous uproar. The supporters of M. Brisson were so busy groaning, cheering and reproaching their neighbors, that they paid no attention to M. Challemeil-Lacour when he rose to read the figures. The President's voice was inaudible, and his hands trembled violently. It was five minutes after he spoke before all the members of the Assembly knew the result. The figures were then only approximate, but they sufficed to show that Felix Faure was the new President of France. The scene was absolutely devoid of solemnity or even dignity. The Brissonnists, who had not expected the Republic must end. He eventually mounted the rostrum, but only to be met there by the Socialists Baudin, Viviani, Michelin and Toussaint, who, in defiance of him and the President, protested against the exclusion kissing him and crying repeatedly: "I am so happy, papa!"

The crowd outside the Ministry cheered with considerable fervor and M. Faure was persuaded by friends to show himself on the balcony. He was received for the first time to-day with genuine enthusiasm. Everybody shouted: "Hurrah for Faure!" and every body and smile from the President was the signal for a new demonstration. When the President returned the salon he said to M. Blondel, his secretary:

"I have passed the most precious moments of my political career in this building."

Tomorrow the President will receive the officers of the staff.

M. Faure is a tall, imposing figure, whose lines show the training he got in early life as a mechanic. Although a millionaire shipowner, he has simple tastes. His election is a blow to the protectionist party. The substitution of reciprocity treaties for the Méline tariff is only a question of time. M. Méline's newspaper organ,

"La République Française," admitted yesterday that Faure's election would mean the same as tariff reform. The result of the election is received enthusiastically in Lyons.

AN ORLEANIST MANIFESTO ISSUED.

Early this evening the United Press correspondent saw a copy of the letter sent by the Duc d'Orleans to Senator Buffet. It was mailed at Dover last evening. It is virtually a manifesto, declaring that at best the Republic in France can be only provisional and that he stands ready to step in and help the people the moment they call him. The letter is generally ridiculed.

The police seized shortly before midnight a special edition of the "Soleil" which contained the letter. The effort was superfluous as nobody was buying the paper and the boulevardiers were as calm as the rest of the city. A dispatch from Dover says that the Duc d'Orleans will return to London to-morrow morning.

The Royalists, who are led by the Comte d'Haussonville, received seven telegrams from the Duc d'Orleans during the night in regard to the latter's manifesto, which was to be issued to-

THERE MAY BE THREE.

IT LOOKS AS IF THERE WOULD BE MORE

THAN ONE CUP DEFENDER.

A SYNDICATE COMPOSED OF W. K. VANDERBILT,

C. O. ISSELIN AND E. D. MORGAN WILL

BUILD ONE-MR. GOULD MAY ORDER

ONE AND ANOTHER SYNDICATE

MAY BE FORMED.

In spite of the hard times and the general lack of money which rich men can invest in a cup defender, it appears, after all, that the only com-monion in the New-York Yacht Club in regard to the building of a cup defender is caused by a generous rivalry among the members as to who shall have the honor of building a boat to defend the trophy. The outcome of all this was a bulletin posted by Vice-Commodore Brown last night in the New-York Yacht Club, saying that a cup defender would be built by W. K. Vanderbilt, C. O. Iselin and E. D. Morgan, and that Mr.

Iselin would have charge of the syndicate. This assures one cup defender, and she is to be built by the Herreshoffs. It does more than that, for it makes a surmise of one, if not two more boats to be built for the trial races. It is an open secret in the New-York Yacht Club that George J.

Gould was anxious to join this syndicate, and that August Belmont was not averse to coming in.

A strong feeling against Mr. Gould developed at the last meeting of the club. Mr. Gould had previously announced his intention of being a member of a syndicate and offered to furnish at least half the money necessary to build a cup defender. This announcement was looked upon by certain members of the club as an attempt on Mr. Gould's part to win too much glory, and for some reason or other the generous desire of Mr.

Belmont was also looked upon askance. The result was that when the official result of the formation of what has been known as the Brown syndicate was announced last night, there was not universal satisfaction.

Vice-Commodore Brown is slated for the next commodore of the club, and it was natural that the work of the formation of a syndicate should

SUCCESS OF THOMAS C. PLATT.

HIS MAN ELECTED TEMPORARY REPUB-

LICA COUNTY CHAIRMAN.

FROM TIO WHO SEEMS TO SUCCEED

MR. CROKER AS RULER OF NEW-

YORK—IT CAUSES C. N. BLISS,

GENERAL THOMAS, AND

GENERAL COLLIS TO

WITHDRAW IN

DISGUST.

The element of the Republican party of this city which is dominated by Mr. Platt was the first skirmish in its fight against Mr. Brookfield last evening. Edward Lauterbach, the choice of the "combine," was chosen temporary chairman of the Republican County Committee at one of the most exciting meetings of the kind held in New-York for years.

The vote stood: Lauterbach, 85; Brookfield, 62.

Mr. Platt's adherents did not complete their triumph. It was their programme to rush through the contests which came up from four Assembly Districts last night before permitting the adjournment of the committee and to elect

Mr. Lauterbach permanent president of the committee. Warned by the eloquent protest of General Anson G. McCook, who led the opposition to the Patterson-Gibbs-Murray-Van Cott coterie, calling attention to the unseemly and humiliating position such hasty action would place the great victorious Republican party of this city, the cooler headed among the majority advised a halt in the proceedings and the committee adjourned to await the report of the committee on Contested Seats.

A JAM AT THE HALL.

Fifth Avenue Hall, in West Forty-second-st., a narrow little meeting-room used for one-horse shows and small social affairs, was de-sated with all sorts of people eager to witness the contest before 7 p. m., and Sergeant-at-Arms Thomas J. Callaghan had his patience and his muscular ability put to many severe

TO CONDUCT THE SUCCESSFUL CANDIDATE TO THE PLAT-FORM.

Mr. Lauterbach's appearance on the rostrum was greeted by cheering, and he proceeded to make an address to the committee, which was generally regarded as extraordinary in a temporary chairman. He said that it had been suggested to him that it might be in order to suggest the delegates on the policy and results which the election of himself might portend.

He had one regret, he said, and that was that it had fallen to his lot to be chosen over one
